

The Waterfront Book Club at danceeats!
Invites you to it's launch on Tuesday 5 October at 6.30pm
danceeats! café, Jerwood DanceHouse,
Foundry Lane, Ipswich, IP4 1DJ

The purpose of this first meeting is to invite you to come and learn how to enhance your enjoyment of reading books by sharing your views with others in a relaxed environment.

Over a glass of wine, we warmly invite you to discover the benefits of joining our book club; you will be introduced to books you had not expected to read, have your preconceptions challenged, discuss topical issues all whilst enjoying the ambience of our buzzy café (where nibbles, snacks or lunch and light supper will be available) and meeting some new people – in one of Ipswich's most iconic buildings.

You will be invited to discuss future book club meetings which are expected to take place on the first Tuesday of every month. It is envisaged that we will hold these meetings at different times to accommodate those of you who would prefer a lunch time meeting, those who would like to meet straight after work and for those who prefer to return home first (e.g working mothers) and return later; your feed-back on the timings will be invaluable.

Stephen Allard, Manager of Waterstones, Ipswich has kindly agreed to come and talk and will introduce his book shop to those who are unfamiliar with it and to tell us about the Waterstone's loyalty card, 3 for 2 offers and to encourage you to belong to a book club.

In order to gauge numbers, we would appreciate an RSVP if at all possible; otherwise feel free to just drop in! Please come along with your favourite book and do bring a friend!

We look forward to welcoming you!

RSVP: jane.cole@danceeast.co.uk. Tel: 01473 235574

N.B A variety of lunch time and evening classes are on offer in the DanceHouse which you may want to consider attending prior to the Book Club meetings. For information go to: www.danceeast.co.uk. Parking: plenty of spaces in Foundry Lane (station end).